Knight Rusty – jacket, boots, cap – time for muddy puddles!

It's raining and Bö and Boy Rusty want to splash around in the big, muddy puddles. But first they need to get into their waterproofs so they don't get wet. When their animal friends say they also want to go outside, Knight Rusty is stumped – what should they wear? Bö and the little knight look for all kinds of clothes and show the animals how to dress 'properly'. And, of course, everything that can go wrong does go wrong.

Encouraging message: I get dressed because I can!

Jörg Hilbert studied communication design and lives as a freelance author and illustrator in Ruhr district. The books of his famous "Rusty Knight" – musicals (music Felix Janosa) have been sold more than 1 Million copies.

Felix Janosa has been composing since he is twelve years old. After having been studied school music, he became cabaret artist, jazz pianist, producer, author and composer of the famous "Rusty Knight" – musicals (with Jörg Hilbert).

Furious Paul

Frida the pirate mouse and Paul the water dragon are best friends. But one day Paul gets out of the wrong side of the bed. As he trots grimly to school, he kicks a rock that bounces away and flattens a mouse tent. When Frida asks him to rebuild the tent, they get into an argument that escalates and Paul shoves Frida to the ground. The resolute Frida stops Paul and shows him how to do things differently: You let off steam, but you never direct your anger at others. After Paul apologises, his day even takes a good turn.

A story that shows even the youngest children how to deal with anger.

Antje Bohnstedt learned Graphic design in Karlsruhe. For many years she worked in advertising agencies before becoming a freelance illustrator in 2006.

The Perfect Do-Nothing Day

Roberta knows exactly what she wants to do today: nothing! Except maybe a little daydreaming. But that's not so easy when her family, between soccer practice, mowing the lawn and playing, keeps on offering suggestions for how Roberta could spend a really nice day. Fortunately, Roberta knows exactly what she wants to do on her beautiful day – and soon wins everybody over.

A beautiful picture book that invites you to stop and take a deep breath amid the hustle and bustle of family life.

Nikola Huppertz was born in Mönchengladbach in 1976 and studied music and psychology. Her debut novel won the literature competition at the Bonn Book Fair 'Migration'. She has since published books for children and young adults, poems, and stories for radio. She lives in Hanover and is a freelance author.

Mareike Ammersken was born in East Frisia in 1992 and lives in Lüneburg. She works as an educator and studies illustration at HAW Hamburg. She finds inspiration during long walks in the woods with her dog, and from encounters with a wide variety of people from her everyday professional life.

Fips' Fire Service – Small Wheels, Big Adventures

Roaring sirens, racing through the city, extinguishing raging fires and rescuing people from danger – that's the stuff every little fire truck's dreams are made of! Even the smallest fire truck that has ever rolled out of the factory gates. While the grown-ups usually laugh at Fips, she is sure that she can do great things on her missions! When a forest fire breaks out and the fastest way to the fire is over a narrow bridge, Fips finally gets the chance to prove to everyone what she is made of ...

A wonderful picture book with stars to win children's hearts!

Was genau in der Fabrik schiefgelaufen war, konnte nachher niemand mehr sagen. Als aber das Feuerwehrauto vom Band rollte, schauten alle verdutzt zu ihm hin. Denn dieses Feuerwehrauto war klein. Nein, es war nicht nur klein, es war besonders klein. Die großen Feuerwehrautos, die vorher und nachher vom Band liefen, warfen ihm verstohlene mitleidige Blicke zu. Dann drehten sie ab zum großen Parkplatz. Ein Mann lachte laut: »Das sieht ja aus wie meine Tante Fips.« Und so bekam das kleine Feuerwehrauto seinen Namen. Fips. Sie mochte diesen Namen sehr.

There's Something in the Air

Svea and her sisters live in a small town. It's summer and everything is just as it should be – except for the strange light and the whispering wind sweeping around the house. Karl, the dog, is also very excited. There is something in the air! And indeed, a summer thunderstorm is heading their way – and what a storm! While Lotte clings anxiously to Papa, Berit keeps her cool. And Svea is about to learn that she likes thunderstorms.

A cosy thunderstorm story for the whole family.

The Moonlight Sonata

Grandma has got everything ready for Ben's sleepover. She's even turned the sofa, pillows and cushions into a den! While he snuggles in and feels tiredness envelop him, his grandma plays an unmistakable, slow melody on the piano: it's the opening section of Beethoven's famous Moonlight Sonata. And as his grandma plays, Ben begins to dream – of a fairy-tale moonlit night, a boat ride, and a sumptuous ball!

The world-famous piano sonata – now as an atmospheric music picture book.

I Am Flocke – Too Much talent, Not Enough Carrots!

Flocke is the most beautiful, most noble steed to ever set its hooves on the ground. Yes! In his diary, this self-confident Shetland pony only wants to describe his exploits (disasters, say the humourless adults). But then a new horse comes to the farm – as Flocke's replacement! Nico is huge and seems to be just what Flocke's owner is looking for. Yes, it's true that Lisa's legs are now so long that she can walk along when she rides. But that only makes things easier for Flocke! One thing is clear: The new horse on the block has to go!

Here comes Flocke: Short legs, big mouth!

Maren Dammann lives with her family and their horses on a mini farm in Brisbane, Australia. She spends her time as a tournament rider and trick trainer preferably in the saddle. When she does not ride, she writes books.

Josephine Mark was born in 1981 Born in Naumburg/Saale. Dear Booksellers,

How old must I have been? Thirteen? Fourteen? Anyway, I'll never forget the day I cried for the first time while reading a book. I was sitting in the living room and Winnetou had just died. Just like that. Over three volumes, Winnetou had become my best friend, my brother, and I was Old Shatterhand. As a child, I experienced the power of a book for the very first time.

The death scene from Winnetou changed my life and planted in me a deep desire to become an author. And now, almost four decades later, I have referenced this scene in a modified form in my book Baddabamba. As I was writing Baddabamba, I could feel Winnetou looking over my shoulder. Paula is my Old Shatterhand, a brave child who embarks on a journey that will change her forever; and the mysterious gorilla Baddabamba is my Winnetou.

I hope that this energy is conveyed on every page, and I would like to draw your attention to my own heartfelt book, Baddabamba. I am eager to hear what you think.

All the best,
your

Baddabamba and the Island of Time

An accident casts 10-year-old Paula adrift, stranding her on the Island of Time, Chronossos. If you're looking for it, the island is actually impossible to find; it has its very own laws and no ship will ever make it ashore. Paula wants one thing above all: to get back to her parents. An almost impossible task. Fortunately, she has three wonderful new friends to help her: the lovingly crazy Jungle Granny, the fun-loving sow Anna Bella and the kind gorilla Baddabamba. And they will only survive this adventure together.

A philosophical adventure novel that's unlike anything you have ever read before!

Rory Shy, The Demure Detective – The Mystery of Eichhorn Castle

An exciting new case for 12-year-old Matilda and the famously demure detective Rory Shy: In the boarding school at Eichhorn Castle, strange messages have begun to appear. What's so strange about them? Well, they say that the 'accidental' death of a teacher 25 years ago was actually murder. On behalf of the principal, the less than dynamic duo immediately begin to investigate. As always, they are ably supported by the fleet-footed cocker spaniel Dr Herkenrath. What really happened back then?

A wonderfully funny and delightfully clever whodunit with an important message:

Paula is a bear whisperer in Clearwaters, California. The town is struggling to get to grips with a genuine bear plague and Paula manages to coax the animals to turn back. Unfortunately, she isn't always completely successful. Despite her best efforts, a bear cub and its mother are due to be shot. Then Paula is unexpectedly helped by young Brian, who was recently attacked by a bear himself ...
